

Call for applications:
2019-2020 Edith O'Donnell Graduate Fellowships
at the Edith O'Donnell Institute of Art History

The Edith O'Donnell Institute of Art History invites applications from current PhD students in the Schools of Arts & Humanities or Arts & Technology at UT Dallas to apply for a limited number of 2019-2020 Edith O'Donnell Graduate Fellowships to support the completion of the dissertation.

We welcome applications both from students working on art history topics and from students in other fields (history, philosophy, or literature, for example) whose work intersects in productive ways with the field of art history.

To be eligible, applicants must have passed their field exams and received approval of the dissertation proposal by the end of the spring 2019 semester. Applications will be judged on the basis of merit and potential; preference will be given to applicants who will complete the dissertation during the fellowship year.

For the 2019-2020 academic year each Fellow will be awarded a stipend, tuition waiver, and a private study carrel at the O'Donnell Institute. During the fellowship period Fellows will be expected to dedicate themselves to their dissertations full time, in residence, and to participate fully in the scholarly life of the O'Donnell Institute.

To apply, please prepare the following material in an application addressed to Dr. Sarah Kozlowski, Associate Director, The Edith O'Donnell Institute of Art History, and Dr. Maximilian Schich, Acting Assistant Director, The Edith O'Donnell Institute of Art History:

1. A cover letter
2. A curriculum vitae

4. A 300-word summary of work you have completed to date
5. A 300-word proposal for work to be completed during the fellowship year
